LIGHTS OUT™

Gun is forced to leave Lucky Residence and return to his hometown, friends in tow. For most people, a return to a plush lifestyle would be a good thing, but not Gun. His friends are driving him nuts and he's not exactly on good terms with his mother. All that he wishes for is some excitement—and it seems the old street gang is going to grant him his wish!

LIGHTS OUT

This is my debut work, Lights Out (Just so you know, the original title is An Evening Something Wonderful May Happen.)

*After ten years, we're putting it in the spotlight again. Like presenting a face without any makeup, I would like to present to you Lights Out just as it was 10 years ago...warts and all.
Kind of embarrassing, but I hope you enjoy it.*

Story So Far...

LIGHTS OUT

The lovely Seung-Ah is over-dramatizing the last volume a bit, though it did have its share of ups and downs. When we last left our hapless heroes, they were caught up in Northern Art High's school olympics, in which Gun and Tae-Min competed in and won EVERY event. As his prize, Gun was rewarded with a date with his beloved Seung-Ah, which took place at a rip-roaring amusement park. It was a lively day out for both of them, but it ended in sadness when Seung-Ah revealed to Gun that throughout the entire date, his fly was open. But he had little time to nurse his badly bruised ego because the very next day he received a letter from his mother inviting him to come home for the summer. An invitation that everyone at the Lucky Residence was more than happy to cut in on.

GUN...

GUN HAS DISAPPEARED!

Let's play "Where's Gun?" Next Volume!

END

In the next volume of

LIGHTS OUT™

So where did our dear Gun disappear to? You need look no further than our next volume for the answer. He's been hanging with a different crowd, and roughing it up with a new group of thugs. But never fear, fene! He doesn't stay away from the Lucky Residence for long. However, when his new friends start mixing with his old, the reaction probably isn't what he was hoping for (unless he was hoping for a bruised face). And who is this new raven-haired beauty that seems to have caught Gun's wayward eye?
